

JIM STONE TALKS TO BIG TOBACCO BUYERS

Finds Manufacturers Ready To Talk Business With Burley Association

Lexington, Dec. 8.—There will be no trouble in selling the tobacco pledged to the Burley Tobacco Growers' Cooperative Association, in the opinion of James C. Stone, chairman of the committee on temporary organization of the association, who returned today from a trip on which he conferred with the leading manufacturers of the country as to their attitude.

He said that as a result of his visits and talks with the manufacturers, he was convinced that there was no reason why the relations between the manufacturers and the representatives of the association should not be mutually satisfactory.

"As chairman and representative of the committee on temporary operations," said Mr. Stone, "I went to see the officials of the principal tobacco manufacturers to learn what their attitudes were toward the association. I was authorized to say to them that we wanted to co-operate with them as our best customers, and the association desired to learn what their attitude toward the co-operative marketing system was going to be.

"I found generally a very friendly cooperative spirit among the manufacturers. They seemed disposed to co-operate with us fully. I assured them that the association would be conducted on sound business principles and that all the manufacturers would be treated alike by the association. Their position, generally, was that they would buy Burley wherever it might be offered for sale, but that they would not discriminate against the association.

"I am convinced that there will be no trouble at all in selling the tobacco pledged to the association and I believe that the manufacturers will take every pound of tobacco we have and be better satisfied with the system of buying it than the old public auction plan. I did not find an unfriendly spirit anywhere I went and was greatly pleased to find that the manufacturers intend to treat the association as they would any other holder of tobacco and that there is nowhere any disposition to assume an attitude of resentment against the organized growers.

As the manufacturers have their own drying plants, I found that most of them desire to purchase their requirements in winter order.

"You can say for the association," said Mr. Stone, "that there is no disposition on our part to get at cross-purposes with our best customers and that, so far as I was able to observe and to learn through my talks with them, no tendency on their part to do anything other than give us all the consideration to which we are entitled when the time comes to market our tobacco."

The association will have more than 52,000 members and will control close to 200,000,000 pounds of tobacco when the books are finally closed Saturday night, if the same rate of gain reported from the 61 organized counties in the district since the reopening of the books November 26 is maintained until the close at midnight Saturday, according to the estimate of Joseph Passonau, organization manager, at headquarters, today.

"Two additional counties in Ohio are showing a disposition to come into the association and we expect that a considerable number of contracts will be signed by growers of Gallia and Lawrence counties in that state, as well as from the counties of Clermont, Brown and Adams," Mr. Passonau said. "Indiana also is adding to her already large signed acreage."

The meeting of the association warehouse committee, which was to have been held today, was postponed until Friday morning at 10 o'clock, when Chairman Ralph M. Barker and his associates will consider plans of arriving at the value of the property which the association may take over or lease from the warehousemen.

ANDERSON SHERIFF IN WHISKY MIX-UP

Lexington, Dec. 8.—A federal warrant was issued here Wednesday for the arrest of Ernest Griffy, Sheriff of Anderson county, charging him with conspiracy to violate the Volstead act.

The warrant is the result of the seizure November 15 of 350 cases of Belle of Anderson whisky which was being removed from the distillery at Clifton, Anderson county, on the Kentucky river.

Records found in the home of the negro caretaker, Joe Saunders, at the time of the seizure revealed that the Sheriff had purchased whisky for $3,500 according to State Prohibition Officer Sam Collins. He purchased it from the men who were arrested at the time of the seizure, he said.

"We have affidavits from several reliable Anderson county officials which will implicate a number in connection with the whisky removal," Mr. Collins said. Sheriff Griffy is an Anderson county farmer. He never held public office before the election four years ago, and retired in January. The warrant was issued before United States Commissioner Charles N. Ward.

38 GOBS HAVE CLOSE CALL IN SUBMARINE

(By Associated Press)

New York, Dec. 8.—Thirty men narrowly escaped death in the submarine S-48 which sank in 70 feet of water off Bridgeport, Conn., last night during a nose dive test. The crew were submerged nearly 12 hours when the vessel lightened and the men climbed out through a torpedo tube. They were rescued by a passing vessel and brought to a hospital here. They were overcome with chlorine gas and are said to be in a serious condition.

The story of their rescue is remarkable. Fifty-one men sat on the submarine's nose for 12 hours. Meanwhile they set fire to matches which attracted a passing vessel and they were taken off.

BURLEY DRIVE IS PROVING BIG SUCCESS

Statement From Local Committee Enthusiastic Over Prospects For Pool

The business men of Richmond have the thanks of the workers in the burley canvass for their great assistance to us on Wednesday.

It was one of the biggest days of the week for 165,000 pounds of tobacco was signed on that day and many promises for signatures later on in the week. We have delegations here from Fayette, Bath and Fleming counties who are helping up wonderfully, and the drive is proving a great success.

By the time this article goes to press the total pledges to the Burley Growers' Association will exceed 4,000,000 pounds in Madison county.

Mr. J. C. Stone tells us that he has just returned from Winston-Salem, N. C., and that manufacturers offer to the association their fullest co-operation and amplified their desire to buy the tobacco just as fast as the association can prize and make ready to ship.

The tremendous saving in handling charges should net the grower much more for the tobacco sold by the association than that sold over the loose leaf floor and the full cash payment made to the member in a short time after the close of the market.

ALVERSON SELLS HIS FINE BOURBON FARM

News comes from Paris that Mr. and Mrs. Jesse M. Alverson sold to James H. Thompson, of near Paris, Bourbon county's representative to the legislature, their country home, located on the Jackstown pike, formerly known as the Hilber farm, and one of the best improved farms in the county. It contains about 219 acres, and the reported price paid is $48,000, or $220 per acre. It is understood that Mr. Thompson purchased the farm for his son, James Thompson, Jr., who with his wife, will move to the place about March 1, 1922.

The farm was formerly owned by the late P. J. Millett, who spent thousands of dollars in improvements. It has changed hands a number of times since the heirs of Mr. Millett sold it to W. H. Whaley, a few years ago, and during the war it was sold at the reported price of $325 per acre, but Mr. Alverson took it back when the buyer could not meet the notes. Besides the commodious two-story brick residence, the place is well supplied with tobacco barns, stock barns, and other necessary buildings. Mr. Alverson has many friends at his old home in Richmond.

Danville Mayor Re-elects Himself By Voting For Himself

At the election of the city appointive officers in Danville, by the new council Tuesday night, C. N. Smith got six votes, and W. O. McIntyre, retiring mayor, presiding over the session got six. McIntyre then broke the tie by voting for himself and was elected for another four-year term. He is one of the editors of the Danville Advocate and has many friends over the state. He has made a progressive mayor, working for improvements, paved streets and to make his town a live one.

11 SOLDIERS WERE HANGED IN FRANCE

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Dec. 8.—Eleven members of the American Expeditionary Forces were hanged in France by court martial. Colonel Walter E. Bethel, assistant judge advocate general of the army, testified today before the Senate committee investigating charges by Senator Watson, of Georgia, that American soldiers were hanged without trial in France. Bethel told the committee 62 death sentences were imposed. General Pershing ordered 11 executions and disapproved the sentences of 11 cases. The others were reviewed at Washington and the sentences were changed. Those executed, he said, were convicted of rape or murder. Six were negroes.

Notre Dame May Play Centre At San Diego

Danville, Ky., Dec. 8.—Cen re College foot ball team will make the trip to the Pacific coast regardless of the University of California's refusal to accept the East vs. West tournament date. Ten days ago the San Diego management deposited $16,000 in a Danville bank as a guarantee. It is probable that in the event a strong western team cannot be obtained to meet Centre, a formidable opponent from the East will be invited. The names of Notre Dame and Cornell have been suggested as possible choices.

OLDHAM NAMED TO OPPOSE WALLACE

Democrats Put Candidate In Field In Special Senatorial Election December 24

Democrats and republicans of the 29th senatorial district nominated candidates for the state senatorship here Wednesday afternoon. Gov. Morrow has called a special election to be held December 24th to fill the vacancy in the senate caused by the resignation of Senator Clarence Miller of Irvine.

William Wallace, son of Attorney C. C. Wallace, of this city and nephew of State Treasurer J. A. Wallace, was nominated as the republican candidate. Mr. Wallace has been practicing law on Judge E. C. O'Rear's staff at Frankfort for over a year, but still claims Madison county as his home.

Nominated For State Senate

Col. R. C. Oldham

On account of the overwhelming republican majority in the five counties of the district—Madison, Estill, Jackson, Rockcastle and Owsley, it was no thought at first that the democrats would put a candidate out. However, party leaders took cognizance of the remarkable turnover of a number of hitherto reliable republican counties had made in the recent election, and decided that candidate should be named. It took a man of political courage to face the 5,000 or 6,000 republican majority, and candidates were scarce. Col. R. C. Oldham, of Richmond, who made a sensational race for lieutenant governor a few years ago, finally volunteered "to be the goat" and accepted the nomination.

W. O. Mays, as chairman of the Madison county republican committee, presided over the meeting of the republican committee. J. J. Greenleaf, chairman of the Madison democratic committee, presided over the meeting of the democratic chairmen of the district, a majority of whom were represented at the meeting here.

BARKER'S DEATH SEEMS CLEARED UP

Mary Austin, negro, 42, and her uncle, Joe Miller, 60, were arrested in Fayette county Wednesday by Deputy Sheriffs J. W. Marshall, Frank Hall and Forrest Stivers and taken to the Fayette county jail, where they are being held in connection with the death of Frederick Dunlap Barker, whose body was found Tuesday afternoon in his home eight miles east of Lexington on Todd's road.

Mr. Barker, formerly worked for F. H. Gordon in the turkey business here.

The Austin woman made a statement to Deputy Sheriff J. W. Marshall and signed it with her daughter, Lillian Berryman, as witness, in which she told of the manner of the killing and stated that Joe Miller fired the shot that killed Barker. Mr. Marshall said. In the confession, the woman stated that Barker came to her home Saturday night in a drunken condition and fired his pistol while in the house. She said she was afraid he would shoot her or Miller and attempt with him and before she had time to take the gun away from him. While she was screaming and pleading for mercy, Barker's pistol, Miller shot Barker with the Austin woman's pistol, according to her story.

She then helped Miller carry the body a quarter of a mile or more to Barker's home, where they placed him on the bed. The alleged confession says. She said that Miller told her not to tell who shot Barker or anything about it.

DECEMBER 10

Tobacco Growers: This notice is to remind you again that on Saturday night the books of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Association will close for signatures. You cannot join after that date. We have the positive statement of our leaders that the door will not open again for this crop. Many are signing with our workers as they go over the county, but necessarily we must travel by automobile, making it a physical impossibility to get to every grower's farm at this season of the year, but the secretary's office over the Madison National Bank is open and clerks there to receive you. This office will close its books for contracts the night of December 10th, Saturday of this week. After it is too late don't say you were not given an opportunity to sign.

Ask who is Governor of Kentucky, and you will then know that ignorance really can be bliss. But ask the men of Butte who is Centre's quarterback, nay, who is Centre College, itself, and your question will provoke an enthusiastic reaction and a quick response. And greater than Henry Clay, too, for Henry was only the "Great Commoner," whereas this later Kentuckian is a "Great Conqueror," who knows no compromise. Yea, "Bo!"—Cincinnati Times-Star.

Novel Cattle Feeding Contract

Six hundred head of western Hereford steers are being fed by three Seward county, Nebraska, farmers on a co-operative contract plan which is expected to benefit both the Montana owner of the steers and the men finishing them for the market. The steers, 2, 3 and 4-year olds, are owned by J. L. Wilson, Broadus, Montana; D. M. Hildebrand, Byron, Bingham, and Jake Ing are feeding them. The contract is on a 1-3 basis; that is, Hildebrand, Brigham and Ing pay one-third of the expense of shipping the steers from Gillett, Mont., to Omaha, and one-third the selling charges; and receive one-third of what the animals bring. In contracting to feed the steers, the Nebraska farmers have guaranteed to put on 170 pounds in 120 days, Omaha weights, over the Gillett weights. The animals are valued at $40 a head in the contract and losses are arranged by subtracting the Gillett weight of dead steers from the Omaha total. They weighed at Gillett after allowing 3 per cent shrinkage an average of 864 pounds.

RADICALISM HERE COMES FROM MOSCOW

Says Attorney General In Annual Report—No Decrease In Moonshining Seen

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Dec. 8.—The movement launched by the Third of Communist Internationale at Moscow to gain control of the trade and industrial unions here out the world, "is meeting with marked success in so far as it relates to syndicalist unions in the United States," says the first annual report today of Attorney General Daugherty.

Communist parties in this country, Mr. Daugherty says, have united to more effectively carry on propaganda and the policy is to endeavor to gain control of the labor organizations through control of the executive committees or other governing bodies therein.

"Many of the leaders of this movement are American citizens," he says, "though they are subject to orders from Moscow as to their activities in the United States."

Foreign propagandists are still flocking to the United States, according to the report, which notes that 427 of them arrived in the last fiscal year.

The dealing with ultraradicalism is one of the many activities of the Department of Justice during the past fiscal year which are reviewed in the Attorney General's report. He calls attention that while the department ceased last January its activities in the enforcement of prohibition, it is continuing to co-operate in this work.

The Attorney General observes that "there has been no decrease in the number of illicit distilling cases since the enactment of the prohibition laws," and that "the court calendar in some jurisdictions have been overtaken by this class of cases."

Violations of the so-called disloyalty sections of the espionage act have greatly decreased, according to the report, which notes that only six cases were begun under the entire act during the fiscal year, while 41 cases were disposed of, 130 cases having been docketed at the beginning of the year.

Mr. Daugherty declares that an organized system the white slave traffic has been broken up, but declares that a great many individual cases still exist with the department making every effort to break up this practice also.

Complaints arising under the Peonage Act increased during the year, the report continues, peonage was found to exist in shocking extent in Georgia, Alabama and some parts of Texas. Several convictions have been obtained and several prosecutions are pending it is said.

Among his specific recommendations, the Attorney General asks for enactment of legislation.

Authorizing the appointment of two federal judges at large for each of the nine judicial districts in order to assist in clearing the congested court dockets;

Making it a criminal offense to send through the mails letters threatening injury to life or property;

Authorizing the presence of stenographers in grand jury rooms;

Making it a crime for a single individual to defraud or attempt to defraud federal government in any manner, as the law now provides for the punishment of "two or more persons who conspire to defraud."

Making criminal an attempt to commit a crime against the United States.

Limiting the compensation to be received by referees in bankruptcy.

"Bo" and Centre

Thanksgiving Day, down in New Orleans, "Bo" McMillin hurled his last forward pass for Centre College against Tulane.

For many years he turned out men who later won distinction. Burke and Sheridan and Goldsmith and all those other Irishmen who adorned English literature and politics during the Eighteenth Century, became great after they had left Ireland. The men of Centre were in somewhat the same position—that is, until "Bo" McMillin unfolded his personality on Centre's gridiron. "Bo" decided not to wait for greatness. So he thrust greatness upon himself and his college. Centre suddenly became a name to conjure with from Bangor to San Diego, from Duluth to Laredo. From its academic groves issued strong men who invaded the East, who invaded the South, to return conquering heroes. The

ARCH HAMILTON NOT SUSPICIOUS

(By Associated Press)
Frankfort, Dec. 8.—Although of recent years it has become customary for persons in public life to reverse the old superstition that number thirteen is unlucky there still are many in Kentucky who are superstitious, according to persons who have been watching selection of seats in the House and Senate for the 1922 session of the State Legislature. There are two seats in the house numbered thirteen, one on the north side of the chamber and the other on the south, and one in the senate.

A number of legislators refused to consider a seat bearing this number, but Arch L. Hamilton, of Fayette county, who has been in the house for several years, has again taken seat thirteen on the north side of the chamber, which he has occupied ever since he was first elected. E. C. Beckman, of Louisville, has been assigned to the same number on the south side.

Seat thirteen in the Senate has been assigned to Senator Walter G. Deans, of Benton, who represents the Second Senatorial district.

The two Presbyteries convened here Tuesday to consider the petition of the two churches to be reunited and both approved unanimously. The step is seen by church leaders as foreshadowing the merger of the branches in the state.

The main points in the agreement are that the church is to be known as the United Presbyterian Church of Lebanon; that all property owned by both churches is to be deeded to the United Church; that the officers in the two churches are to be officers in the new church; that all benevolences are to be equally divided between the two General Assemblies and that connection with and representation in both branches of the church courts is to be maintained.

The Presbyteries at the same time received a petition from the Laymen's Association of Transylvania Presbytery, asking that the two presbyteries effect a union. This was referred to a committee from each body, consisting of four ministers and three laymen, who are to report at the joint meeting at Harrodsburg on January 5.

New Light on Batteries

"Since all batteries look so much alike on the outside, how am I going to tell which one has the most value inside?"

That is a practical every-day question—and it has a simple every-day answer.

What greater assurance could you possibly have than the following combination of facts:

1—Extraordinary quality in the battery itself, as shown by the choice of the Willard Threaded Rubber Battery, as standard equipment by the manufacturers of 173 makes of cars and trucks.

2—A nation-wide organization to serve you.

3—A record for quality and service dating back nearly to the beginning of the automobile.

You don't need a formal invitation. Come in any old time and get some new light on this battery question.

1921 IS HEALTHIEST YEAR EVER KNOWN

Life Insurance Reports Show But Automobiles Are Taking Fearful Toll

(By Associated Press)

New York, Dec. 8.—There were 153,000 fewer deaths in the United States and Canada in 1921 than in 1920, said Robert Lynn Cox, third vice president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., in an address before the 15th annual convention of Association of Life Insurance Presidents here today.

Mr. Cox presented statistics based upon official records of companies transacting 80 per cent of the life insurance business which he said, may "indicate the dawn of a material lengthening of the span of human life in the two countries." The figures show that this year will be entered on the records as "the healthiest ever experienced." Motor-driven vehicles, however, are exacting an alarmingly growing toll of victims.

The statistics, compiled from the mortality experience of 37 companies, covered 27,000,000 human lives which of necessity reflect the general health conditions throughout the country. The most amazing factor in the health situation of the year now drawing to a close, according to Mr. Cox, is the almost complete disappearance of influenza as a cause of death, only 1,716 being reported for 10 months of 1921 as against 25,400 for the corresponding period of 1920, which was not regarded as an epidemic year.

Excess insurance losses of 1918 and 1919 occasioned by influenza were estimated conservatively at more than $170,000,000. The present year's mortality gain translated in the money saved in the payment of death claims by all life insurance companies of the United States for 1921, measured by outstanding insurance, according to Mr. Cox will amount in round numbers to at least $51,000,000.

Death claims paid by life insurance companies of the United States in 1920 aggregated $350,000,000, "mostly on men, women and children who died prematurely." Life expectancy, according to Mr. Cox, may reasonably be extended from 51 to 70 years, with an increase in the knowledge of preventable diseases.

DR. VANCE DELIVERS STRONG SERMON

"When to Get Scared" was the subject discussed by Dr. Vance at the Presbyterian church last night before one of the largest crowds yet assembled. When he had finished his discourse there was no one in the audience who doubted the sure punishment for every sin committed in his life. In his message he said that so many had the idea that God sent their soul to hell. He brought out convincingly that God saves them from their sins and saves them for Heaven, and that Satan is responsible for sending men to Hell. He pointed out the terrible condition of men who think more of their bodies than their own soul, and illustrations were cited by him where men time again proved this astounding fact. At the conclusion of his sermon he had cards distributed to his hearers and urged them to sign the pledges presented on the card. It is understood that several cards were signed and will be distributed to the churches of their choice at the close of the meeting. All of the ministers from the several churches in the city were present and took part in the service.

Tonight Dr. Vance will deliver a special sermon on the young men, and the male quartet of the First Christian church will sing a special number.

Last night Mr. Watson sang in a very impressive manner "I'm a Little Old-Fashioned, I Know." The words of this song portray the life of this young soldier of Christ and those who have been fortunate in meeting him during his stay in Richmond, have been bettered by coming into contact with such a splendid Christian gentleman. He has a wonderful influence over his choir members who are trying to make this meeting a success in every way. The "Sunbeam" choir, which sings in the afternoon, continues to grow in numbers and the goal of two hundred voices has been passed. The influence of this band of singers is telling among the crowds that throng the afternoon services.

Dr. Telford is pleased with the response the people of Richmond have given Dr. Vance and Mr. Watson since coming to this city and urges everyone to take advantage of these splendid gospel meetings.
